Introduction

This booklet lists sources available within Sheffield Libraries Archives and Information for the study of the history of Sheffield's green belt.

Sheffield was one of the first British cities to attempt to limit uncontrolled development in this way. A green belt was established in 1938, concentrating on the south and west of the city. A formal green belt plan was not produced by the City Council until 1980. Following a public enquiry the plan became operative in late 1983.

This Guide is not a detailed study of the green belt or its origins; it merely points the reader who wishes to carry out their own research to what is available within Sheffield Libraries and Archives.

As more items are catalogued and the collections are used by researchers it is likely that additional references will come to light. More detailed searching of our catalogues for broader terms (such as town planning, town and country planning, and structure plans, for example) may reveal additional material.

Timeline showing key dates

1898	Ebenezer Howard's proposed Garden Cities were intended to be "planned, self-contained, communities surrounded by greenbelts, containing carefully balanced areas of residences, industry, and agriculture."
1909	Town Planning Act of 1909 allowed local authorities to draw up planning schemes defining certain areas for development and the density, layout and design of new buildings.
1924	Sheffield Association for the Protection of Local Scenery established (later to become the Sheffield, Peak District and South Yorkshire Branch of the Council for the Protection of Rural England (CPRE)).
1926	Council for the Protection of Rural England founded.
1927-1931	The CPRE, the Council of Social Service and the Ramblers, organised the purchase of the Longshaw Estate for the National Trust.
1929	Save the Countyside Exhibiton at Sheffield's Cutlers' Hall.
1930s	Greater London Regional Planning Committee proposed the Metropolitan Green Belt around London.
1931	The CPRE was instrumental in the preservation of Blacka Moor, purchased as a public open space by Alderman Graves.
1932	The Town and Country Planning Act of 1932 extended the principles of the 1909 Act to any land, not just that likely to be used for development.
1935	The CPRE was instrumental in opposing building speculation between Totley rise and Owler Bar.
1936	The CPRE successfully opposed building speculation between Whirlow Bridge and Dore Moor.
1937	Sheffield City Council's Town Planning Advisory Committee invited the CPRE to submit a map showing areas around Sheffield 'which might suitably be preserved as a green or agricultural belt.'
1937	Second Save the Countyside Exhibiton (this time at Graves Art Gallery).
1938	Sheffield City Council approved a scheme for a Green Belt around Sheffield, the first local authority outside London to do so.
1939	CPRE instrumental in promoting the purchase of Hazlebarrow Farm, Norton, with 250 acres by the Sheffield Corporation for the green belt.
1940	CPRE organised a joint Committee to secure the whole of the Peak District as a National Park.
1942	CPRE instrumental in the preservation of Birley Edge with 62 acres for Sheffield's green belt.
1947	Town and Country Planning Act allowed local authorities to include green belts in their town plans.
1979	South Yorkshire County Council's Structure Plan map includes green belt areas.
1981	Sheffield City Council approved a Green Belt Subject Plan.
1982	Public inquiry into Sheffield's Green belt Subject Plan.
1983	Green Belt Plan adopted by Sheffield City Council.
2002	Campaign to Protect Rural England (Peak District and South Yorkshire Branch) renamed as Friends of the Peak District.
2018	South and West Yorkshire green belt covers 248,241 hectares.

Adding to our collections

Sheffield Libraries and Archives seeks to preserve information about events in our city's history. If you have photographs or personal papers that may be worth preserving please consider safeguarding them for current and future generations by placing them in the care of Sheffield Libraries and Archives. It is only through the generosity of individuals and organisations that we are able to have a complete record of important events in the history of Sheffield and the nation. We are interested in photographs, flyers and posters, minutes of meetings etc. For advice on record keeping and the facilities we offer please us (archives@sheffield.gov.uk or 0114 203 9395).
