Sheffield City Council
Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy Statement 2017

The commitment to fairness and social justice is at the heart of the Council’s values. We believe that everyone must get a fair and equal chance to succeed in Sheffield. We recognise that some people and communities may need extra help to reach their full potential, particularly when they face multiple layers of disadvantage and discrimination. We will work to prevent and oppose discrimination and inequality in all of our functions.

There is a proven business case for equality, diversity and inclusion (EDI). Good practice will lead to benefits for all. We want our workforce culture to promote and embrace EDI and we recognise that each individual adds value to a team. We know our strength comes from building on and valuing our staff and customers’ differences and similarities. By being inclusive we encourage all staff from many different backgrounds to be themselves and apply their own unique perspectives. We recognise that we need to draw on talent from all sections of the population to be innovative, creative and effective in service delivery. We are committed to supporting our workforce to develop and to commission or deliver high quality services that meet the needs of everyone.

Promoting equality of opportunity, means creating an environment where people have the chance to achieve their potential, free from barriers, prejudice and discrimination. Inclusion and equality is not about ‘treating everyone the same’ but recognising that everyone is different and that people’s needs are met in different ways. This can be as a citizen, customer or employee. Diversity is about understanding that each individual is unique, recognising, respecting and celebrating the added value that differences bring.

Our commitments

Creating an environment for our staff and the people of Sheffield:
- That promotes fairness, equality, diversity and inclusion
- That promotes dignity and respect for all
- That recognises and values individual differences and the contributions of all
- Where people are treated fairly and according to their needs
- Where intimidation, discrimination, harassment, bullying or victimisation is actively prevented and opposed
- Where individuals feel valued, included and able to access services
- That staff of all backgrounds have a positive experience which develops our position as an employer of choice

We recognise the importance of inclusion for everyone and have developed 5 Key Principles to Inclusion. When planning and delivering services we should always ask: Can our customers or staff- Find it, Reach it, Understand it, Relate to it, and Control it?

Meeting the Equality Act 2010 and Section 149 the Public Sector Equality Duty

The Act sets out a pro-active Duty on us to:
- Eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation
- Advance equality of opportunity
- Foster good relations
This means we need to understand the effect of our policies and practices on equality, this will involve looking at evidence, engaging with people, staff, customers and others and considering the effect of what they do on the whole community.

Under the Act the relevant protected characteristics are:

- gender reassignment
- pregnancy and maternity
- race (includes ethnic or national origins, colour or nationality)
- religion or belief (or no belief)
- sex (men, women, other)
